HOUSE RESOLUTION 767

Offered by Representative May:

WHEREAS, The State of Illinois has 11 operating nuclear power reactors and more radioactive spent fuel than any other state in the nation; and

WHEREAS, An equipment malfunction, fire, human error, natural disaster, or terrorist attack could, separately or in combination, lead to a nuclear catastrophe with potentially devastating human, environmental, and economic consequences for the citizens of Illinois, the region, and nation; and

WHEREAS, The March 2011 nuclear accident at the Fukushima Daiichi plant in Japan has resulted in significant radiation exposure for countless Japanese citizens, billions of dollars in economic losses, and unimaginable hardship for thousands of Japanese families who have lost their homes and way of life; and

WHEREAS, All but one of the nuclear power plants in Illinois have reported groundwater leaks; and
WHEREAS, The LaSalle and Clinton power plants have suffered year-plus outages due to mechanical malfunctions and safety failures; and

WHEREAS, The earthquake risk at the Dresden nuclear power plant has been determined by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission to exceed the capacity of its design; and

WHEREAS, Braidwood, Byron, Clinton, Dresden, LaSalle, and Quad Cities nuclear power plants do not periodically review their voluntary but critical Severe Accident Management Guidelines (SAMGs), according to a Nuclear Regulatory Commission audit conducted after the Fukushima disaster; and

WHEREAS, According to many independent experts, there are well-documented safety and security shortcomings at the nation's 104 operating nuclear reactors that can and should be corrected to improve public health and safety; and

WHEREAS, The residents of Illinois have an inalienable right to have their voices heard regarding possible threats to the health, safety, and general well-being of themselves, their families, their property, and the surrounding environment arising from the State's nuclear power plants; and

WHEREAS, The people of Illinois want a safe and secure energy supply for themselves and future generations; and

WHEREAS, The Illinois General Assembly takes its responsibility to represent its citizens with utmost seriousness; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE NINETY-SEVENTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS, that the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, which has complete jurisdiction over U.S. nuclear power safety and security matters, must ensure that concrete steps are taken now to address serious shortcomings in nuclear plant safety and security that have been evident for years, however no technology can be made perfectly safe, but the Nuclear Regulatory Commission can and must do more to guard against accidents as well as the threat of terrorist attacks on reactors and spent fuel pools; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the Illinois General Assembly urges the Nuclear Regulatory Commission to do the following: (1) require Illinois nuclear power plant owners to transfer radioactive spent fuel from storage

pools to much safer dry casks as soon after 5 years of cooling as possible; (2) ensure that everyone at significant risk from a severe accident, not just people within the arbitrary 10-mile zone currently used for emergency planning, is protected; (3) extend the scope of its regulations to include the prevention and mitigation of severe accidents; and (4) improve protection of the nation's nuclear power plants against terrorist attacks; and be it further

RESOLVED, That we further direct the House clerk, upon passage of this resolution, to send copies to all 5 Commissioners on the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, the Governor of Illinois, the Illinois Congressional Delegation, and to the CEO of Exelon, the company that owns all Illinois nuclear power plants, with an accompanying cover letter stating the date this resolution was passed by the General Assembly in the State of Illinois.

HOUSE RESOLUTION 770

Offered by Representative Flowers:

WHEREAS, Ida B. Wells was a seminal figure in Post-Reconstruction America and one of the great pioneering activists for civil rights for African-Americans long before the Civil Rights Movement, as it has come to be known in history; her achievements have not received the attention they deserve as she was a fierce activist for both African-Americans and women, challenging traditional power structures as well as leadership within activist movements, and as a journalist reporting first-hand and publicizing the widespread atrocity of lynching; and

WHEREAS, Ida B. Wells was born into slavery on July 16, 1862, in Holly Springs, Mississippi, 6 months before President Abraham Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation; her parents, Jim and Elizabeth, taught her the value of education and of speaking her mind; she was orphaned at 16 and left college to become a teacher to care for her 5 remaining siblings and keep them together; and

WHEREAS, At a time when black teachers made $30 per month and white teachers made $80 per month, Ida B. Wells moved to Memphis, Tennessee, embarking on a career as a journalist and civil rights activist; in September 1883, she preceded Rosa Parks' historic bus ride by 72 years, refusing to give up her seat on a train car and being forcibly removed at the age of 21; and

WHEREAS, Ida B. Wells stepped outside the traditional roles of a woman and of an African-American at the turn of the century by speaking out about unsavory topics; she is considered to be the single most powerful leader in the anti-lynching campaign in America; and

WHEREAS, Ida B. Wells became the editor and owner of her own newspaper, and when her newspaper office was destroyed in an angry response to her outspoken writings, she was exiled from Memphis and stayed away from the South for over 30 years, moving to New York and then Chicago; in 1893 and 1894, she traveled across the United States and throughout the United Kingdom, passionately writing and speaking out against lynching; and

WHEREAS, Between 1880 and 1930, approximately 3,220 black Americans were reported lynched, with many hundreds more unreported African-Americans killed and whites as well; following Wells' campaigns, legislation against lynching was enacted in parts of the South and the numbers of lynchings went down, from a peak of 235 in 1892 to 107 by 1899; and

WHEREAS, In 1895, Ida B. Wells married Ferdinand L. Barnett, an attorney and owner of The Conservator, one of Chicago's black newspapers; he and Ida had 4 children together; and she continued her activism while juggling motherhood and her many civil rights commitments; and

WHEREAS, Ida B. Wells was one of the founders of several organizations, including the NAACP, the Negro Fellowship League to assist black men and boys who were excluded from the YMCA, and the Alpha Suffrage Club, an organization of black women who worked to obtain the right to vote; she assisted the National Association of Colored Women and the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and served as the secretary of the African-American Press Association; she worked with Susan B. Anthony as a leader in the movement for women's suffrage and with Jane Addams in Chicago to prevent the establishment of segregated public schools; and even within these organizations, she challenged contemporary leaders who advocated for appeasement and accommodation in favor of uncompromising confrontational action; and

WHEREAS, In 1918, Ida B. Wells covered race riots and lynchings in East St. Louis and in Arkansas; in 1928, she began writing her autobiography, fearing future generations would never hear the truth of the injustices that were happening at the time; in 1930, out of frustration with the slow movement of rights for African-Americans and the stalemate of the 2 parties in government, Ida B. Wells became the first African-American woman to run for the Illinois State Senate; and

WHEREAS, Ida B. Wells passed away after a sudden illness on March 25, 1931 at the age of 68; her husband passed the following year, and they are interred together in Chicago's Oak Woods Cemetery; in 1940, she was honored by having the first public housing development for African-Americans in Chicago, The Ida B. Wells Homes, named after her, which stood for over 60 years; and

WHEREAS, Ida B. Wells' tireless work and great dedication to the civil rights movement is deserving of the greatest honor; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE NINETY-SEVENTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS, that we designate the date of March 25, 2012 as Ida B. Wells Day in the State of Illinois in honor of Ida B. Wells and her great work with the civil rights movement; and be it further

WHEREAS, Breastfeeding offers many important benefits for mothers and babies and also for society; there is abundant evidence that human milk is designed to enhance optimally the growth, development, and well-being of an infant; a mother's milk provides the best protection for her infant against specific infections; this cannot be duplicated in infant formula; therefore, be it

Offered by Representative Nekritz:

WHEREAS, Obesity, physical inactivity, and poor nutrition are major risk factors for cancer, second only to tobacco use; approximately one third of U.S. (186,000) and Illinois (22,223) cancer deaths this year can be attributed to poor diet, physical inactivity, and overweight and obesity; and

WHEREAS, Overweight and obesity are associated with increased risk for several common cancers, including colorectal, esophageal, kidney, endometrial, pancreatic, and postmenopausal breast cancers; research also suggests that overweight and obesity may also be associated with increased risk of liver, cervical, ovarian, non-Hodgkin lymphoma, multiple myeloma, and aggressive prostate cancers; the biological link between overweight and obesity and cancer is believed to be related to multiple effects on fat and sugar metabolism, immune function, hormone levels and proteins that affect hormone levels, and other factors related to cell proliferation and growth; and

WHEREAS, National and Illinois adult overweight and obesity percentages are similar in that 2 out of 3 adults are overweight or obese; nationally, 31.6% of children ages 10 to 17 are considered to be overweight or obese; in Illinois, 34.9% of children ages 10 to 17 are overweight or obese; and

WHEREAS, Overweight and obese children and adolescents are at an increased risk of staying overweight or obese as they grow older; therefore, prevention of obesity is essential beginning in childhood; and

WHEREAS, An American Cancer Society, Illinois Division mission priority is to reduce overweight and obesity rates in Illinois' youth by 25% by 2015; and

WHEREAS, The American Cancer Society recommends consuming a healthy diet, with an emphasis on plant foods, in order to reduce cancer risks; recommendations include choosing foods and beverages in amounts that achieve and maintain a healthy weight, limiting consumption of processed and red meats, and consuming fruits and vegetables and whole grains instead of refined grain products; and

WHEREAS, Regular and intentional physical activity helps maintain a healthy body weight; independent of body weight, physical activity may also reduce the risk of breast, colon, endometrium, and advanced prostate cancer, and possibly pancreatic cancer; and

WHEREAS, The American Cancer Society recommends that adults engage in at least 150 minutes of moderate intensity or 75 minutes of vigorous intensity activity each week and that children and adolescents engage in at least one hour of moderate or vigorous intensity activity each day; and

WHEREAS, Despite the evidence linking overweight and obesity, poor nutrition, and physical inactivity to increased cancer risk, the majority of Illinoisans are not meeting nutrition and physical activity recommendations; social, economic, environmental, and cultural factors strongly influence individual choices about diet and physical activity; and

WHEREAS, Reversing obesity trends and reducing the associated cancer risk will require a broad range of strategies that include policy and environmental changes that make it easier for individuals to regularly make healthy diet and physical activity choices; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE NINETY-SEVENTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS, that we encourage that the following be supported:

- (1) policies aimed at increasing access to affordable healthy foods in communities, worksites, and schools, and decreasing access to and marketing of foods and beverages of low nutritional value, particularly to youth;
- (2) changing school environments to promote health through a coordinated strategy addressing key components such as physical education, health education, nutrition services, staff wellness, and family and community involvement;
- (3) daily, quality physical education for early childhood education programs and all students in grades K-12; physical education can be supplemented with additional school-based physical activity opportunities, such as recess, physical activity in the classroom, classroom breaks, intramural sports, and walk-to-school programs; and
- (4) ensuring all users-pedestrians, bicyclists, motorists, and transit riders of all ages and abilities have safe access to a community's streets.

WHEREAS, State agencies are required to identify excess and surplus real property under their control in such reports; and

WHEREAS, The Annual Real Property Utilization Reports are to be screened by the Department of Central Management Services to identify real property that might be used by other State agencies and agency space requests are to be concurrent with excess real property reports; and

WHEREAS, Pursuant to Department of Central Management Services rules, if one agency's excess real property can reasonably fulfill another agency's space request, then that excess real property is to be made available to the agency needing space in preference to obtaining leased space; and

WHEREAS, Also pursuant to Department of Central Management Services rules, real property inventories are to be maintained at the minimum necessary to ensure economic and efficient operations and property that is not needed for future agency purposes is to be declared surplus; and

WHEREAS, According to Comptroller records, the State has spent in excess of one hundred million dollars for real property rental to date; therefore, be it

Offered by Representative Franks:

WHEREAS, The role of the judiciary in Illinois is vitally important to individuals, businesses, units of local government, and other entities; and

WHEREAS, The confidence of our residents in our judiciary is an important part of the fabric of State government; and

WHEREAS, Any question about the ability, experience, or integrity of the associate judges who perform central functions of the judiciary detracts from the esteem in which the Illinois judiciary is held; and
