Nekritz: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'm delighted to join with Representative McAuliffe to welcome a whole group of folks who are up in the Speaker's Gallery today from the Adult Down Syndrome Center in... at Advocate Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge. This... we are celebrating in this Resolution the 25th anniversary of the Adult Down Syndrome Center. This is a very unique center from around the country. There's only one other center that does anything like this that provides primary care for adults with Down syndrome, but this is the first and really the best around the country. And I would like to give a special shout out to Dr. Chicoine, whose vision and leadership has create... has really made this center into what it is today from serving about a hundred adults when it started 25 years ago to now serving over... about 7 thousand adults annually. And the... as the lifespan for folks with Down syndrome has doubled over the last number of years, the health care needs of adults with Down syndrome have come along with that. And so, this is... it's really very wonderful today to welcome them here to the Capitol and to recognize Dr. Chicoine and everyone at the Adult Down Syndrome Center. And especially the folks with Down syndrome that have joined us today and their family members, we give you a special welcome, many of whom have never been to the Capitol before. So, we're very excited to have them join us today."

Speaker Lang: "Mr. McAuliffe."

McAuliffe: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I'd like to also thank Representative Nekritz for bringing me on the Resolution and thank all... all the parents and all the adults that came down. Advocate Lutheran General is in my district and I'm very proud of that hospital and for all the people and all the... all the parents that took their time out to come down here to visit us here at the State Capitol. And a special shout out to Kerry Nicholson and her son, Patrick, who is also named after one of my constituents, his great aunt Pat Zeigenhorn. Welcome to all of you. And thank you for spending your day with us. We learned a lot today. Thank you."

Speaker Lang: "Thank you for joining us today. And I thank the Sponsors for this Resolution. Those in favor of the Resolution will say 'yes'; opposed 'no'. The 'ayes' have it. This is one of the other Bills that we had in the agenda to make some changes in the CILAs to help protect the people in them. And what this Bill does... It's very simply... it just collects and securely stores identifying information and contact information for each individual resident, so the agencies have that information on hand for protection of the clients that they have in their facilities. I don't know of any opposition."

Simply, the Bill transfers the responsibility for certification of fingerprint machines from fingerprint venders, which are basically employees and non-owners, to fingerprint vendor agencies which are the owners of the machine. It's a sensible Bill. And I request an 'aye' vote."

Breen: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This is a Bill to legalize 360 lids on beer cans. So, this was a... it was a request from a brewery in my district. They asked me about midway last year, can we make this new can, which is sweeping the nation where all of the top of the can comes off. So, that for hoppy beers, IPAs, those sorts of beers, you can actually really smell them a lot better than... than you can with just a smaller opening on the can cover. And we looked into it, saw it was illegal, unfortunately, because of a law passed about 20 or

Clerk Hollman: "House Bill 2442, a Bill for an Act concerning education. Third Reading of this House Bill."

Speaker Lang: "Mr. Bennett."

Bennett: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Basically, this... today as it is, the law requires the state to offer college entrance exams to students and it's a wonderful idea. What this does, this takes it one step further and codifies the state's practice to offer school entrance exams during the actual school day and that's the difference. It'll allow for safety and all those kinds of things as well. So, that's what this does. It's straightforward and says you need to have tests during the school day. So, with that, Mr. Speaker, I move for an 'aye' vote, please."

Andersson: "Thank you, for both. Representative, is there a fee increase in this?"

Fine: "There is a fee in one place and an elimination of a fee in another."

Andersson: "So, where is the one and where is the other?"

Fine: "So, it increases the registration fee for certain types of watercraft and it eliminates the water usage stamp fee."

Andersson: "Do we anticipate that that will either increase or decrease revenues because one might be used more often, the other less or do we not know?"

Fine: "Well, I really don't know how much of an impact it's going to have on overall revenues in general. It increases the fee for a Class 1 watercraft more than 16 feet from 18 to 28 dollars and for a cattle boat to 60 from 50 dollars."

Andersson: "My understanding from our report, that this will also bring us into compliance that will generate 1.6 million in grants. Is that correct?"

Fine: "So, part of this Bill that is so important is eliminating the water usage stamp because there's a lot of confusion about what that stamp does. And for many kayaks and canoes that have races in Illinois waterways, thousands of people come in from out of town to participate in these events. And the confusion in the past has been, you need a water usage stamp in order to participate and that really kept people from coming to Illinois to participate in these races. So, by eliminating the water usage stamp just for these races, they're hoping that this is going to bring in a lot of tourism dollars, people are going to come here to participate in the Andersson: "So, I happen to have a kayak and I do pay that little thing. Am I going to not have to pay it or is it... or do I still have to pay?"

Fine: "Well, if... It's only if you're participating in that race..."

Andersson: "No, I would never participate in a race."

Fine: "...then you don't have to pay the water usage stamp. But if you're going to be using Illinois waterways in general, you're going to have to buy a stamp for your boat."

Severin: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Ladies and Gentlemen of the House, today I offer House Bill 2897 for your consideration. This Bill would make Illinois veterans suffering from post-traumatic stress disorder, better known as PTSD or depression eligible to receive a service dog from Helping Paws Service Dog Program. Currently, the Department of Corrections partners with the Helping Paws Program to provide service dogs to individuals suffering from physical or mental disabilities. This Bill will widen the pool of eligible individuals to include veterans suffering from PTSD or depression. The Helping Paws Program is working effectively. The committee of individuals that currently select service dog recipients would also be eligible for choosing which veteran receives a service dog. Service dogs have proven to be an effective companion animal for veterans coping with mental scars of war. Many veterans in Illinois could benefit from a service dog. This Bill would be a good way to ensure that more veterans would be eligible to receive them. I believe this Bill will further help us fulfill our great obligation to care for our veterans when they return home, while also not reinventing the wheel for the completely new program. Thank you. And I'm happy to answer any questions. And yes, this is my first Bill. And yes, I'm nervous."

Speaker Lang: "Representative Fine."

Fine: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. This legislation requires the synchronization of prescription drug refills at least once per ensured year. It also allows patients to pick up all of their ongoing prescriptions at the same time every month. This will allow the patient and the pharmacist to stick to a medication regime. I know of no known opposition to this Bill."

Speaker Lang: "Mr. Andersson."

Andersson: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Will the Sponsor yield?"

Speaker Lang: "Lady yields."

Andersson: "Representative, so what does synchronization of prescription drug refills mean?"

Fine: "Right now, you know, if you're on a number of different medications sometimes you pick up one at the beginning of the month, one in the middle of the month, one at the end of the month and this can be confusing for patients. And so, this allows the patient and the pharmacist to work together so that they're on a synchronized schedule."

Andersson: "Does that have any impact on the insurance coverage? I just... I know from experience that sometimes insurers will deny you coverage in a... in a given cycle."

Fine: "So, it's to my understanding because you're not going to be getting any additional medication, but you're just going to be on the same schedule. So, you're going to get the same refills, but you're all... going to get them all at the same time."

landscape waste, this should not, if you didn't know that already, it should not go in the recycling. It should go in the trash. Be happy to answer any questions."

Speaker Lang: "Mr. Andersson."

Andersson: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Will the Sponsor yield?"

Andersson: "So, it appears what we're really trying to do here, Anthony, is educate and discourage from putting things that don't belong in the recycling bins in the recycling bins. Is that correct?"

DeLuca: "Yes, it is."

Andersson: "And it appears from our analysis that there's no... there's no penalty for this. So, again, it's to encourage... or encourage and educate, but if somebody does it, they're not going to be prosecuted for it, correct?"

DeLuca: "That's correct. There's no penalty in the Bill."

Andersson: "Thank you very much."

Speaker Lang: "Representative Ives."

Ives: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Will the Sponsor yield?"

Speaker Lang: "Sponsor yields."

Ives: "So, understanding there's no penalty, what... what's the enforcement mechanism then for the Bill?"

DeLuca: "Well, I did state it's more for educational purposes."

Ives: "But we're basically stating it's illegal. Do we have other Bills like this that are illegal, but unenforceable?"

DeLuca: "Can you restate your question?"

Ives: "I'm just wondering what's the use of a Bill that we qualify as illegal, when it's literally unenforceable. And even if somebody were to find out, there's no penalty."

STATE OF ILLINOIS
100th GENERAL ASSEMBLY
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

25th Legislative Day

DeLuca: "Well, at some point in the future if the state wanted to impose penalties or authorize units of local government to impose penalties, we could do that."

Ives: "So, I mean, my brother runs a landfill out in the Quad Cities area. I mean, and he can tell you that there's a lot of recycling stuff that just ends up in the landfill. And I imagine that part of the reason is that it's contaminated recycling. It's not pure recycling. I just don't know how we correct for that and I don't... I don't understand how this Bill's going to really help. I mean, I agree with you. People should not be throwing the wrong things into recycling, but I just don't see how this Bill's going to help."

DeLuca: "Well, that is the first... as I said, the first step is to educate folks and get the word out. So, if they didn't know previously, they will know going forward of what the do's and don'ts are with recycling material."

Ives: "So, a stronger Bill, maybe that if the waste hauler actually recognizes that you have comingled in recycling items that should not be there. They just don't pick it up."

DeLuca: "Well, to a certain extent the waste haulers police it now and they may not pick it up and they may put a tag on it."

Ives: "Right. And I think that's very, very effective. 'Cause people want their garbage taken care of, so I don't see the need in making it illegal. I think that's... that that's the way to handle it. If the waste hauler doesn't pick up your recycling 'cause you've comingled, then you're going to have to pay for its disposal or in the case... my community actually went to where you're paying for both recycling and you're paying for regular garbage to be hauled away. Albeit, it's a little different in pricing. So, I think that's the better way to handle this."

DeLuca: "Well, I'll be more than willing to look at another piece that might tighten it up and strengthen it in the future."

Ives: "Thank you. To the Bill. I just think, honestly, we're going to be highlighted as the garbage police who made recycling provisions... or contaminated recycling illegal in the State of Illinois; and by the way, go ahead and keep doing it because there's no enforcement mechanism. I mean, that's what's going to come out of this Bill. And honestly, I think that that's just another thing to highlight the dysfunction in Illinois."

Speaker Lang: "Mr. Davidsmeyer."

Davidsmeyer: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Will the Sponsor yield?"

Speaker Lang: "Sponsor yields."

Davidsmeyer: "So, just looking at our analysis here, it says if you knowingly place into a container for collection. So, if I'm talkin... if I got a piece of Styrofoam and I put it in a recycling container, I obviously knowingly put it in the recycling container. What if I did not know that it was not recyclable?"

DeLuca: "Well, that's part of the process here too. Now today, you know that it's not recyclable."

Davidsmeyer: "I knew that before."

DeLuca: "So, you were just educated Mr. Davidsmeyer."

Davidsmeyer: "Yeah."

DeLuca: "Which is the point of the legislation."

that making comingling of garbage and recycling is necessarily something we should be making illegal. I think that we should encourage our waste collectors and recycling collectors to do their own educational campaigns. Thank you."

DeLuca: "Well, keep in mind it's not the first time that the State of Illinois has done something like this. The, you know, the Landscape Waste Act 1991, or whatever it was, made it illegal to mix landscape waste with trash. So, it's not that unusual."

Speaker Lang: "Mr. Skillicorn."

Skillicorn: "Will the Sponsor yield?"

Speaker Lang: "Sponsor yields."

Skillicorn: "Representative, how is this communicated to the average homeowner that's trying to throw away their recycling? Is there... is this going to be published somewhere or is this going to be mandated and put on the recycling containers or something? That's just one thing I'm just not clear on."

DeLuca: "Most of the time that education process takes place by the hauler within a community. So, when a hauler would start a recycling program within a community, usually that information goes out at the time."

Skillicorn: "Okay. So, we're relying on the hauling company to do this."

DeLuca: "No, I didn't say that. I just answered the question that in most cases that how it... the education processes happens currently."

'ward of the state' to 'youth in care'. This is already referred to in our departments as youth in care, these special children that are in the care of the state. But I believe that we really need to change Code so that we refer to young people with the right terminology. In my opinion, one way to promote positive interaction and help inspire children is by doing away with these outdated legal terms that diminish their self-worth. This came out of committee with a unanimous vote. And I would ask for its passage. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

The effort is to make sure that technical differences from one statute to another, even as we amend and revise the law, are not permanent. So, it is technical corrections combining multiple enactments and making technical corrections, nothing substantive. And I hope you won't ask me any questions. I hope you'll just vote 'yes'."

With this Bill, we are simply inserting the words 'anywhere in the state of Illinois', just to clarify that you are meant to have insurance anywhere you drive a vehicle in the State of Illinois. The original statute had the language split up a little bit. It was very confusing and we were seeing that police were applying it unequally across the state. I'm happy to answer any questions."

Stratton: "Absolutely."

Andersson: "But I do just have a few questions."

Stratton: "Certainly."

Andersson: "Because your Bill is real. You know, it's something real. So, you're taking a survey of those departments that use predominately paper. What is the underlying purpose of that? Why do we want to do that?"

Stratton: "So, I've worked with a number of agencies in criminal and juvenile justice reform and we've identified that there are a number of systems that use primarily paper-based systems. We know that we're in the age of technology, so this is not to encourage anyone at this stage to do anything, but we need to understand which systems can talk to one another and which ones cannot."

Andersson: "So, for example, we have 102 counties and I know this applies certainly more to just the counties. Is it literally going to be counting to determine, well, out of those 102 for example, 30 still are in the paper mode and the remainder are... I mean, is that kind of what it's going to do?"

Stratton: "It's simply to provide baseline information to understand which systems, whether technology-based or paper-based."

Andersson: "And that's for all the different agencies, correct?"

Stratton: "Correct."

Andersson: "Okay. But we're not digging into how they use the paper, how they use electronics. Right now, we're just trying to figure out who's kind of still operating a little bit in the dark ages."

Stratton: "That is correct."

Andersson: "Okay. Thank you very much. Was that positive and uplifting?"

Stratton: "It was positive and it was welcoming, as well."

Andersson: "Thank you."

Stratton: "Thank you."

Speaker Lang: "Well, you had me and attention. Mr. Davis."

Davis: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Unlike the previous speaker, I offered no such characterization of what my questions might be. So, will the Sponsor yield?"

Speaker Lang: "Yes."

Davis: "Thank you very much. Now, you are asking the Criminal Justice Information Authority to do a survey. Are they trying to find something wrong? Are they rooting out criminal issues with the survey?"

Stratton: "No. The criminal portion of this Bill relates to the fact that it is the Illinois Criminal Justice Information Authority. So, they are focused on the information and then they will utilize that information in the criminal justice system to understand how systems are talking to one another."

Davis: "So, they will determine, because they are the Criminal Justice Information Authority, whether or not any information that they are seeking whether or not some criminal activity has happened?"

Stratton: "Absolutely not. As you know, the county sheriffs, the clerks and the clerks of court are a part of a system where they have to communicate one with another and this is really looking at whether the systems are using paper-based systems or technology-based systems. And it's really a question of..."

Davis: "To commit crime?"

Stratton: "I'm sorry, Representative."

Davis: "Whether or not they're using these systems to commit crime?"

Stratton: "If I may finish... If I may finish, it's to make sure that the systems are operating efficiently. Thank you."

Davis: "But in order to see if they're committing crimes though? Because this is the Criminal Justice Information Authority, they're rooting out crime. So, they're checking paper and technology to see if crimes have been committed because they're the Criminal Justice Information Authority, right?"

Stratton: "No. As you may know, the Criminal Justice Information Authority is primarily a research-based entity. And so, they are not a law enforcement entity, but they will be looking at other entities within the system to determine if they are utilizing paper or if they're using technology."

Davis: "So, they are a research entity? So, they're researching paper and technology to determine if crimes are being committed?"

Stratton: "No. They are doing research by way of the survey or inventory, as I mentioned in the Bill, to determine whether or not a system is using paper primarily or using technology."

Davis: "But using paper or technology to determine if crimes are being committed? Because after all, they are the Criminal Information... Criminal Justice Information Authority, right?"

Stratton: "No. Because, again, some of these agencies, clerks of the circuit court, sheriffs, and county clerks offices are not necessarily doing that type of investigative work. But they do... are a part of the system and they do, of course, need to make sure that they share information one with another. So, this will look at how to make the entire system more efficient."

Davis: "But you said some... they don't do the investigatory work. So, they're relying on their Criminal Justice Information Authority to do the investigatory work, to look at paper and technology to determine if crimes have been committed, correct?"

Stratton: "No."

Davis: "Then what are they supposed to be doing?"

Stratton: "The Illinois Criminal Justice Information Authority? Is that what you're asking? What are they supposed to be doing?"

Davis: "I guess."

Stratton: "The Illinois Criminal Justice Information Authority is a research entity that conducts research on a number of issues relating to criminal justice and they also provide that research information and it's available to you if needed on another Bill that you may want to talk about. And at this point, that's what they do."

Skillicorn: "So, I will probably urge an 'aye' vote, but I do have one more question. When I look at the text of the Bill, I don't see... actually, well, in my analysis it talks about after the information is recovered about formalizing rules. And then when I look in the text, I don't see that in the text of the Bill. Is that the intent?"

Guzzardi: "So, here's the deal, Steve. Is that most people who apply for their birth certificates do it through their county Department of Public Health. The only reason you would need to come to the state is if you are applying for a record in a county where you no longer live. Like let's say you lived in Cook, but you were born in Madison County then you may apply through the state rather than... 'cause Cook County can't find it for you. So, we're actually working with the Cook County Board to do a pilot program for Cook County's Department of Public Health as well, but this would apply... the counties can't do it for the state.
