Speaker Lang: "The House will come to Order in regular Session. With leave of the Body, we will use the Attendance Roll Call from the Fifth Special Session as the Roll Call for regular Session. Is there leave? Leave is granted. And Mr. Clerk, please note that accordingly. Page 11 of the Calendar, under the Order of Concurrences, House Bill 313. Representative Feigenholtz on a Concurrence Motion. Please proceed."

Feigenholtz: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. House Bill 313 is an agreement between the... it is the Nurses Sunset Practice Act and an agreement between the Med Society and the nurses... Advanced Practice Nurses. I'd be glad to answer any questions."

Speaker Lang: "Mr. Andersson."

Andersson: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Will the Sponsor yield?"

Speaker Lang: "Sponsor yields."

Andersson: "So, what was the... what are we concurring in? What was the change from the Senate?"

Andersson: "The sun... you said the sunset? I couldn't hear."

Feigenholtz: "On the Nurse... the Nurses Practice Act."

Andersson: "Yes."

Feigenholtz: "The Amendment that came over from the Senate was an agreement on the Advanced Practice Nurse Practice between the Med Society and the nurses on expanding the Practice Act for nurses to... give them independent practice."

Andersson: "So, does it add to the Bill, then?"

Feigenholtz: "Yes."

Andersson: "Okay. And so, is there any opposition to the Bill at this point?"

Feigenholtz: "There is not."

Andersson: "Med Society's okay with it?"

Feigenholtz: "It's kind of magical, but this actually has come about. I think it's come about at a crucial time when we need allied health professionals working together at the top of their licenses and the fact that this was agreed. I would like to tip my hat to Erin O'Brien, Rob Kane, Sue Clark, Liz Brown and everybody who was involved in this because this was not an easy thing to do."

Andersson: "Very good. Thank you for the answers to the questions."

Speaker Lang: "Sponsor yields."

Andersson: "So, tell me a little bit more about the underlying Bill. I'm not sure. Is this a gut and replace or are we just adding to the Bill?"

Welch: "It's not a gut and replace. It's actually a concession that we made over in the Senate to remove most of the opposition. We limited the Bill to elementary schools between grades 2 through 5 just to teach a unit of cursive somewhere between second grade and fifth grade. High schools are not required at all."

Andersson: "Now, just to be clear. This is our cursive writing Bill, correct?"

Welch: "That's correct."

Andersson: "All right. And you got my e-mail, right? Got a cursive writing letter from one of my constituents, very nice, huh?"

Welch: "Which was perfect, wasn't it?"

Andersson: "It was perfect cursive. I could barely read it, but it was perfect. One question. You said it removes most of the opposition. My notes indicate the Governor is still opposed. Is that correct to your knowledge?"

Welch: "I didn't hear that. Who is it? Who..."

Andersson: "Is the Governor still opposed? My analysis indicates he is."

Welch: "I don't have the Governor on mine at all."

Andersson: "Oh, okay. All right."

Welch: "It says School Management Alliance is still opposed."

Andersson: "The School Management Alliance is opposed? Is that the remaining opposition, everything else has been cleared?"

Welch: "That's correct."

Speaker Lang: "Representative Ives."

Ives: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Will the Sponsor yield?"

Speaker Lang: "Sponsor yields."

Ives: "Our staff has done a pretty good job on our analysis and in fact, what they have come up with is they have said the following topics are outside the core studies are in the School Code regarding special courses of study. And there's 30 of them. I was just wondering if you'd be willing to give them, you know, schools a break on unfunded mandates by deleting one of the following of the 30, so that they can then instead research your cursive writing curriculum? So, they've got patriotism and principles of representative government, Congressional Medal of Honor film, physical education, sex education, family life, instruction on diseases, unspecified, character education, consumer education, conservation, natural resources, Internet safety education, moral and humane education, safety education, Bird and Arbor Day, Leif Erickson Day, American Indian week, Illinois law week, just say no day, holocaust and genocide study, black history study, history of women, Irish famine study, parenting education, education in steroid abuse protection, violence prevention, and conflict resolution education, organ, tissue and blood donor information, anti-bias education, bullying prevention, disability history and awareness, gang resistance education and training, and driver's education. So, pick... possibly if we could delete one of those 30 and add in cursive, we'd at least be even. Is that something you would consider?"

Slaughter: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House. I move to concur with Senate Amendment #1 to House Bill 2993. As you recall, House Bill 2993 codifies into law the school practice of allowing students to eat what they grow from school-sponsored gardens. The Concurrence Amendment adds two new contemporary school practices to grow produce which are hydroponics and aeroponics. These are two new cutting edge techniques to teach nontraditional innovative ways to grow produce. I know of no opposition. I urge a 'yes' vote."

Riley: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker and Members of the House. I move to concur with Senate Amendment #1 to House Bill 3005. Senate Amendment #1 basically changes the nature of the original Bill, but it is something that I agree with. And what it basically does is codifies into law what the Treasurer is already doing, which is accepting all means of payments for anything owed the Treasurer."

Speaker Lang: "Mr. Andersson."

Andersson: "So, this is not a gut or... Will the Sponsor yield? I apologize."

Speaker Lang: "Sponsor yields."

Andersson: "This is... We're adding to the Bill?"

Riley: "No, no, no."

Andersson: "We're amending the Bill?"

Riley: "This is a gut and replace."

Andersson: "It is..."

Riley: "And that's why I said it... Yeah. It changes a major of my original Bill, but I still agree with it."

Riley: "Well, essentially what the Amendment does is just codifies into law a practice the Treasurer already does. Any payments going to the Treasurer, you know, some of them are cash, some of them are from credit cards... this is basically saying that all of those different types of payments he will accept."

Andersson: "And he... and he can't do that right now?"

Riley: "He's doing... Representative Andersson, as I say he's already doing it. But they're just putting it in statute."

Andersson: "All right. Very good. Thank you for the answers to the questions."

Riley: "Sure."

Speaker Lang: "Representative Ives."

Ives: "Actually, this... this Bill does a lot more than just that. And whatever the Senate Concurrence was it's still not sufficient. This Bill still in the event of a default is going to intercept state funds to bail out bondholders rather than that money going to services. I mean, this is a terrible Bill. Everybody knows we're at the brink of insolvency and many of our subgovernments are there as well. And you ha... you can't do this. If... if your... if you care about actually pensioners, if you care about services being delivered, the last thing you want to do is bail out bondholders with state funds which does... this does allow that to happen in... in the case of a default. So, this is a horrible legislation. It's one of six Bills including SB41, which is the grandfather of all of them that essentially is it trying to secure tied state streams of income so that bondholders are protected. The bondholders know more about what's going on in the market than we do. And they're setting themselves up for favored status in the case of a default. Vote 'no'."

Speaker Lang: "Mr. Riley to close."

It is not the original Bill. It is a gut and replace. Read the Bill. This is all that it does. Frankly, I had.. I had an issue with the fact that it came over this way, but that was the decision that the Senate made. So, again, if you read the Bill, this is all that it does. It codifies into law a practice the Treasurer is already doing. It is not the original Bill. Vote 'aye'."

Brady: "Sure. What the Bill does is addresses as an alternative suggestions through our schools, medical institutions, coroners, medical examiners of whole body donation where there's no private funds available. It's merely a recommendation. It is no fact that anyone has to do that. And then, if that is the choice, remains that that those remains are for the purpose of medical study not for any other purpose or partial sale or change of body parts of any group that is not authorized under this Act as a medical institution. Flowers: "And so, as a result of this legislation, can you tell me what is going to happen?"

Brady: "Sure. As a result of this legislation, if the family... if there's identification made, and the family indicates that they would prefer that this be a means of disposition and then have the remains turn... returned to them if they wish after a period of time and scientific study is complete by means of cremation that they could simply do that. My Resolution works to change this by encouraging IDES to work with Illinois businesses to hire veterans by implementing a simple website where businesses can pledge to hire veterans modeled after a similar program in Missouri called Show Me Heroes. Amendment 1 was adopted in committee. No Floor Amendments. No Motions are filed."

Speaker Lang: "Third Reading. The House will be in Order. Chair recognizes Representative Mitchell."

Mitchell, C.: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I imagine most people won't be particularly surprised by the content of my remarks because they've been mentioned every single day of the Special Session by somebody on this side of the aisle. So, I'll be reading a quote by my friend Leader Durkin. Who said, 'I'm not going to point fingers today unless... that I feel is absolutely necessary, but it's time to move away from that. There will be a Governor's election in a year and a half; let the chips fall where they may, but the fact is everybody needs to lay down their arms for a little bit, put things aside and think about the welfare of the state'. Now, I know these words might seem like they're getting a little old or that they're subject of a blue lecture or a Currie cry or whatever hashtag I might see in a few moments, but understand why they're very important. You all may wonder, on the Republican side of the aisle, what happens in our caucus meetings and I'm not going to reveal all of those secrets though I assure you they're quite fun. But one thing that does happen is people talk about what's going on outside of the chamber. And the challenge that we have is that we're in a situation where there's a substantial lack of trust. And when Members are receiving in their mailboxes pieces of mail that look like this... and by the way, for the ILGOP, you really need a new mail vendor... way too much text, not particularly persuasive, but the point is this. Every single one of us gets elected to office to do the right thing, do the work of the people. And it does not show seriousness toward wanting a budget when you're attacking people politically as you're asking to compromise. Now, everyone knows that to get a budget we are going to probably need some revenue. And everyone also knows that the lion's share of the votes for that are probably going to come from the Democratic side of the aisle. So, if you care about your universities, your social service agencies, your farms, your schools, then you need to send Leader Durkin a text, he might still be in the Leader's meeting. I'm sure he's going to do a debrief with the Governor afterwards and ask him to repeat his words to the Governor because every day this goes on we get further and further from a budget because everyone knows that we are going to have to take a difficult vote to get out of this, but we also know now that not only after it happens but during its course, we are going to pay for it with our constituents. And everyone knows that this Governor has unlimited resources, which means that every single day he is reemphasizing the fact that when we do the right thing for the state, we are going to pay for it with our political lives. So, if you are serious about getting a budget, if you are serious about making sure that you have Democratic support for that budget, support your Leader in telling the Governor to end the political attacks. Thank you, Mr. Speaker."

Speaker Lang: "Mr. Batinick."

Batinick: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Point of personal privilege."

Speaker Lang: "Proceed, Sir."

Batinick: "Representative Mitchell, I agree with you. Leader Lang, Leader Turner, I agree with you. I've said so publicly; I've said so on Facebook. I'm saying it now on the floor. But it... it's not like we all have clean hands, here. When we were trying to fix the '15 budget... '15 fix, I took a vote on a Thursday and there was a mailer in my mailbox about that... or in everybody's mailbox in my district about that vote on Saturday. What I can say is both Parties are pretty efficient at campaigning. I really wish we were all efficient at running government. The one thing that I've been struggling with the last few days literally since, I guess, since May 31, is I really want to focus on one number and that's 71. The Senate's waiting for us. They presented a budget the Governor has finally put his name on... on a set of numbers that he would sign, but 71. It takes 71 now to pass a budget. If the Governor vetoes that budget, it still takes the same 71 to override it. Everything's on the House. We did a bunch of nice Concurrences and... and Resolutions today, but it's us. Everything's on the House right now. It's not on the second floor; it's not in the Senate. Everything is getting to 71. Once we get to 71 in this House, that's when we'll have a budget in this state. So, I would like to just say, once again, publicly, I disagree. I disagree with the fact of trying to campaign during this time, but we should be ignoring other branches of government and the other chamber and we should... the 71 of us should be focusing on getting a budget passed. Thank you."
