Speaker Lang: "The House will be in order. We shall be led in prayer today by Andrew Williames, who is with Illinois Prayer Breakfast. Mr. Williames is the guest of Representatives Chapa LaVia and Butler. Members and guests are to refrain from starting their laptops, turn off cell phones, and rise for the invocation and Pledge of Allegiance. Mr. Williames."

Williames: "It's good to be here with you all this morning. Thanks for being your guest here, Representatives Butler and Chapa LaVia. You should have received a flyer on your computer yesterday about the Illinois Prayer Breakfast. Please make sure that you come be with us. Last year, we had over 80 of you all sign up; over 60 of you came. In years past, we've been lucky to get five of you, so that's awesome. I think a secret may have been that we got rid of the Governor's name and it was actually a by you all, for you all. So, we look forward to seeing you on May 16, your Legislative Aides should also have one as well. With that, let's pray. Father, thank You for allowing Your kids to be here today. Thank You for their safety as we acknowledge not one of them would be here had You not allowed it. As a good and loving father looks down on his kids with pride and joy, thank You for looking at these Legislators with that same love, the same pride and joy. I ask that You allow these kids of Yours to experience Your unconditional love for them, Your pride, and Your joy in them in the ways they've never had before. Father, You know they will make mistakes today and for the rest of their imperfect lives as we all do. And we thank You that does not disqualify them from Your love or the availability that You offer of Your perfect guidance. Father, forgive the people of Illinois for their cruel treatment of these Leaders who stand in the gap on their behalf. These Leaders face down the most disgusting and important things being said to them and about them, to their families and about their families. Forgive the folks here in Illinois who don't treat them well and who don't love them. Protect the hearts of these Leaders from the lies that make them feel not good enough, from the lies that encourage them to strive in unhealthy ways that separate them from Your peace. You tell us that if we fear You, we will have faced life fearlessly; yet if we don't fear You, we end up fearing everything. May these, Your kids, be reminded to fear You to benefit themselves. Father, bless these kids of Yours with the presence... with Your presence as they seek to do the work of their constituents and their Parties. Bless these kids of Yours with sound minds and tender hearts. Father, despite their insanely busy schedules, bless these kids of Yours with the superhuman ability to love their families in the ways they want. Bless these families with physical safety, understanding minds, and patient hearts. And lastly, Father, You tell us that Your love is the only commodity on the planet that we can give away that never runs out. It's the only commodity we don't have to take from someone else to have more of. It's unlike power, influence, and money. Bless these kids of Yours here today with a gut level love for each other, to give to each other which only You offer. We can tolerate and we can put up with people, but we confess, it's unbelievably hard to love some people. Help us and help them. We pray in Your name, Amen."

Charlie's going to be our Page today, but I'm also lucky because he's my neighbor. He lives right down the street from me. Charlie is in the fifth grade; he's 10 years old. He goes to Columbus Elementary School in Edwardsville. At Columbus, he's involved in the band. He does Cub Scouts. And he's also currently rehearsing for a performance of The Lion King, Jr. When he grows up, he would like to be an actor and a director and I have no doubt that he's going to be very successful in his career. He's joined today by his parents, Kevin and Tress, Harris, D. "The... the good word for today or the good news for today, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House, is pumpkins. Pumpkins, you know, a couple of years ago the distinguished and long-serving Gentleman from the 88th District passed a Bill making the pumpkin pie the official pie of the State of Illinois. And that initiative was... was greeted with some derision by... by many because we were in a budget crisis and we said, oh, my goodness, we have more important things to do. But it's interesting to note that 90 to 95 percent of the pumpkins in the United States are grown in Illinois. So we talk about... a lot about soybeans and corn and pork, and that's great. But let's not forget about those folks that raise pumpkins. They deserve a lot of respect too and good for those pumpkin farmers throughout the State of Illinois. Every time you enjoy a pumpkin pie, you can bet that that pumpkin... that

Speaker Lang: "Representative Feigenholtz."

Feigenholtz: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Members of the House. This Bill is an initiative of the Illinois Association for Behavioral Health. The intent of the Bill is to prohibit marketers from falsely encouraging patients and families to seek addiction treatment and other treatment outside of Illinois for alcohol, heroin, and other drug addiction or mental health treatment. It prohibits health care workers from profiting from these referrals. And it had no opposition in committee. I believe that there are a lot of very satisfied parties that are... we are moving forward to legitimize alcohol and drug abuse treatment. I would appreciate an 'aye' vote."

Speaker Lang: "Mr. Breen."

Breen: "And Representative, just to confirm, you're adding to our Consumer Fraud & Deceptive Business Practices Act about seeking mental health disorder and substance use disorder treatment outside of the State of Illinois. What... what's the... what was the need for this particular regulation about misleading or false advertising about treatment outside the State of Illinois?"

Feigenholtz: "There have been a lot of internet trollers, Representative Breen, who have essentially, I guess we could label them patient brokers that are less than reputable, shall we say, and do not follow appropriate guidelines and actual treatment plans that are falsely encouraging patients and families who are desperately seeking solutions for addiction treatment and mental health treatment and trying to lure them outside of Illinois. Many of these people do not have coverage for these out-of-network and out-of-state places and the travel costs are extreme. And this is our way of ebbing that in our State of Illinois for our constituents."

Breen: "And then... just so that I'm clear, is it... is it also currently an unlawful practice to engage in misleading and false advertising or promotion to misrepresent that treatment in the State of Illinois? Is that already barred by our Act?"

Feigenholtz: "I'm going to have to get back to you on that. I don't have the answer to that, but I believe that it is covered."

Breen: "Okay. And then I see that you're... you're... it appears to be you're adding a requirement for all advertising or marketing about mental health disorders or substance use disorders that they must display the physical address of the treatment program, include a link to the State of Illinois Department of Human Services, that they must state that the treatment may be available for a reduced cost or free for Illinois residents within the State of Illinois. Is that... that's right that we're adding that requirement on all advertising directed into the State of Illinois?"

Feigenholtz: "Yes. You know... Representative Breen, something of note that I think you would be interested in is that we had to do something similar when it came to adoption agencies in the State of Illinois back in 20... 2005 where, because of what happens on the internet, it was very important that out-of-state providers have a nexus. And we really have to be mindful of deceptive practices and the cost that some of our people who are desperately seeking help incur because their hope and dream is that their loved one will be able to achieve recovery and they're willing to do just about anything. So, I appreciate your questions and hope I've answered them."

Breen: "Okay. And I guess... part of the problem is that sometimes when somebody puts out an advertisement on the internet, there's no nexus to the state and so, saying that if they're advertising Illinois residents do they... I mean, does just generally, let's say, does the Mayo Clinic have to put a disclaimer for Illinois residents on their primary website just because they might happen to reach folks in Illinois or they certainly want to have folks from Illinois come to them. Say, not a fly-by-night institution, but say the Mayo Clinic or someone like that. I mean, a real, an actual, legit behavioral health provider like the Mayo Clinic. Do they have to do this? Do they have to have a separate webpage for... you know, with an Illinois set of disclaimers?"

Feigenholtz: "Well, I think another problem that we're going to have, Representative, is ultimately we're prohibiting fee splitting. And I mean, I think your questions are very legitimate. You're trying to figure out where the hammer is here. Is that what the question is? How are we going to know who's the good guys and who's the bad guys?"

Breen: "Well, and it's not just that. It's also that we are enforcing... it is a compelled speech. So certainly the First Amendment folks have a right to advertise. The Commerce clause, I mean, you can... the right to travel, that sort of thing. You do have a right to, if you're an out-of-state behavioral health provider, you can try to get folks from Illinois to come to you and giving perfectly legitimate reasons. You might have an expertise or what have you. So, I would just... I'm little bit worried about the language."

Feigenholtz: "And honestly, the way that that is dealt with in the Bill is the link to the Department of Human Services where they monitor who the legitimate providers are and who are not."

Breen: "Right. And then... I'm wondering, when you say directed at Illinois residents, so again, what does that mean for... again, the Mayo Clinic, is not located in Illinois. I'm assuming they want... we have plenty of folks from Illinois who go there or may have... you may have a specialized treatment center somewhere. How do you delineate an advertisement directed at an Illinois resident and one just on the internet offered to any... anyone in the country to come and you know, come to that facility?"

Feigenholtz: "Well, these are... we're talking about out-of-state facilities..."

Breen: "Right. The Mayo Clinic, for instance, obviously not a fly-by-night institution."

Feigenholtz: "Correct."

Breen: "I mean, you know, one of the finest in the country recognized by all or you know the Cleveland clinics, those sort of folks."

Feigenholtz: "It... it... This..."

Breen: "What are they... what are they going to be bound to do under this Act, if anything?"

Feigenholtz: "...this Bill does not prevent them from advertising or it doesn't apply to Illinois health insurers or managed care organizations."

Breen: "But it... I'm confused. So, if... I mean, those out-of-state... So, I'm wondering are we... are we putting a burden on out-of-state providers that they've got to do disclaimers on any page that is viewed by Illinoisans or directed... 'cause I see it is directed Illinois residents. I'm wondering, I mean, is there any limiting principle on your Bill?"

Feigenholtz: "We are not in any way trying to discourage reputable, out-of-state providers, Representative Breen, in this Act. I..."

Breen: "I didn't mean discourage..."

Feigenholtz: "...I think you..."

Breen: "...but they are now going to be required."

Feigenholtz: "...I think you should read the language of the Bill. And..."

Breen: "Right. It says any marketing, advertising, promotional, or sales materials directed to Illinois residents concerning mental health disorder or substance use disorder must have these... have these particular points. And..."

Feigenholtz: "Can you cite what Section you're looking at?"

Breen: "As I understand it, it's the... your Amendment to the Consumer Fraud and Deceptive Business Practice Act. I believe it's in that part of your Bill."

Feigenholtz: "I would like to..."

Breen: "It's page 6, lines 12 through 24 of your Bill."

Feigenholtz: "I have to read the whole Consumer Fraud & Business Practice Act..."

Breen: "No, no, no. In your Bill, page 6, lines 12 through 24. So, I understand what you're doing. You know, you're saying it's an... we're explicitly stating it's an unlawful practice to engage in misleading or false advertising about out-of-state mental health, substance abuse disorder treatment. I'm more concerned about what requirements are we placing on... by placing a... we're placing a burden of a particular set of information on every marketing, advertising, promotional, or sales material directed to Illinois residents in... concerning, which is a broad word, mental health disorder, substance abuse disorder treatment. It's a pretty broad requirement. And I'm wondering does it apply to every out-of-state... is it every facility in the country?"

Feigenholtz: "So, Representative, I... with a little bit of assistance, I think that the belief is that reputable organizations know how to manage and work... currently work with the Department of Insurance and know how to set up their websites so they are not part of this very distinct group of brokers and the actual bad actors that we're trying to get to. So, ultimately, if they are good brokers and they're good providers, they've got nothing to hide and they are free to advertise. If they're not and they're perpetrators, then they will be cited and now we are bringing them under this Act. I hope that answers your question."

Breen: "Well, I'm still getting you out of it. So, you're adding a requirement that every mental health or substance abuse disorder advertisement or promotional material include several disclaimers. I understand that and I understand for Illinois... for folks that are in Illinois or you're serving ads directly to Illinois, so be it. What does the Mayo Clinic have to do under your Bill? Do they have to put these disclaimers on their website? Does every mental health provider in the country that receives patients from Illinois have to put this on their website? Where is the limit to your new requirement?"

Feigenholtz: "Representative, I'm going to momentarily take this out of the record to get that answer for you."

Breen: "Thank you."

Speaker Turner: "Mr. Clerk, please take this Bill out of the record. Representative Demmer is recognized."

Demmer: "Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Please let the record reflect that Representative Reick is excused for the day."

Speaker Turner: "Thank you, Representative. House Bill 4397, Leader Lang. Mr. Clerk, please read the Bill. 4397."

Clerk Hollman: "House Bill 4397, a Bill for an Act concerning education. Third Reading of this House Bill."

Speaker Turner: "Leader Lang."

Lang: "Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. Some time ago, we passed a Student Loan Servicing Rights Act which established regulations on student loan servicers. These are companies that manage billing and administrative aspects of student loan debt collection. In the process, we exempted actual debt collectors from this Act but neglected to exempt attorneys who do debt collection from this Act. That's all the Bill does."

Speaker Turner: "Chair recognizes Representative Breen."

Breen: "Will the Sponsor yield?"

Speaker Turner: "Sponsor indicates that he will yield."

Lang: "Please vote 'aye'."

Speaker Turner: "The question is, 'Shall House Bill 4397 pass?' All in favor vote 'aye'; all opposed vote 'nay'. The voting is open. Have all vote who wish? Have all voted who wish?
