102nd GENERAL ASSEMBLY
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
TRANSCRIPTION DEBATE

69th Legislative Day

2/15/2022

Speaker Manley: "The House will be in order. Members will be in their chairs. We shall be led in prayer today by Wayne Padget, the Assistant Doorkeeper. Members and guests are asked to refrain from starting their laptops, turn off all cell phones, and rise for the invocation and the Pledge of Allegiance. Mr. Padget."

Wayne Padget: "Let us pray. Dear heavenly Father, you are the pillar of the strength and shield. You are our shepherd who internally guides us. Father, as we start Session today, be with us and guide our thoughts and actions. With your help, good things and new beginnings will happen to this great state. Father, we have faced many challenges in our state, some with impossible odds and others that are simply unbelievable. But still, throughout both of them, you come through for us. Lord, finally, we stand before you today because we hope for a better future. We pray that our investments, plans, and relationships will come to fruition. Walking in your light has taught us, by your power, we will persevere and win. Thank you for this Session and you deserve nothing less than eternal glory. This we pray, Amen."

Speaker Manley: "We will be led in the Pledge of Allegiance today by Representative Avelar."

Avelar - et al: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Speaker Manley: "Roll Call for Attendance. Leader Greenwood is recognized to report any excused absences on the Democratic side of the aisle."

Greenwood: "Thank you, Madam Speaker. Let the record show that Representatives Guerrero-Cuellar, Representative Conroy, Representative Rita, and Representative Lilly are excused today."

Speaker Manley: "Representative Welter is recognized to report any excused... I'm sorry. I didn't even look up. Leader Mazzochi is recognized to report any excused absences on the Republican side of the aisle."

Mazzochi: "Thank you, Madam Chairman. Let the record... let the record reflect that Representative Sosnowski is excused for today."

Speaker Manley: "Have all recorded themselves who wish? Have all recorded themselves who wish? Have all recorded themselves who wish? Mr. Clerk. There being 109 Members answering the roll call, a quorum is present. Members, an announcement. This is a reminder of House Rule 51.5. Please remember to wear a face covering that covers both your nose and mouth. Face coverings should remain on while speaking on the microphone at your desks. Again, face coverings should remain on while speaking on the microphone at your desks. To help reduce the spread of COVID-19, we ask that Members refrain as much as possible from eating or drinking on the House Floor and refrain from congregating in groups. We ask that all Members take these directives seriously to help keep fellow Members and staff safe. Again, please remember to wear a face covering, including while speaking on the microphone, as pursuant to House Rule 51.5. Thank you. Mr. Clerk, Rules Report."

Speaker Manley: "Representative Wilhour, I could read 51.5 again for you if you'd like me to."

Wilhour: "...unnecessary covering of the faces of children..."

Speaker Manley: "Under the Order of Resolutions, we have House Resolution 647, offered by Leader Butler."

Butler: "Thank you, Madam Speaker. If we could have the Body's attention on this, I would appreciate it. House Resolution 647 honors the life of Congressman Harris Fawell, who passed away in... on November 11 of last year. In January of 1991, Congressman Fawell gave a kid just out of college the break he needed to get his career started. For $18 thousand a year, I learned more about politics in my first six months working in Congressman Fawell's Capitol Hill office than I learned getting a political science degree at Eastern Illinois University. Answering phones, greeting constituents, giving tours of the Capitol was a great way to start my professional career, thanks to Congressman Fawell. He is one of the many people who made a significant impact on where I am today. But the person who gives you the first real break means more than most. Harris was born in West Chicago, attended West Chicago

High School, North Central College, and Kent College of Law. Harris was one of us. He was a State Senator for 14 years. He succeeded Lottie Holman O'Neill, the first woman elected to the General Assembly. While in Springfield, Harris had a passion for legislation, especially concerning parklands here in Illinois. He was elected to Congress in 1984, served seven distinguished terms. He was a leader in labor and health issues and was positioned on the House Education and Labor Committee, which allowed me to go to work on that committee after leaving his personal office. Harris was well-known as a budget hawk, going after pork barrel spending. He cofounded the Pork Busters Coalition and was a Chief Sponsor of 23 Bills, which eliminated $2 billion in pork spending on the federal level. Harris also loved baseball. I mean he really loved baseball. He and his brothers, Tom, Bruce, and Mike, were well known as the Fighting Fawells in the Fox Valley League. Harris was such an accomplished player that he did a stint in the minor leagues for the Detroit Tigers organization. But the Harris Fawell I knew was a diehard White Sox fan. Why we have so many White Sox fans around here is beyond me. Pretty sure Harris was a season ticket holder, if I remember correctly. But I'll never forget on April 19, 1991, standing around the small TV in Congressman Fawell's office as the staff watched the White Sox christen the new Comiskey Park on the South Side. Which by the way, the Sox lost that game 16-0. Harris had a subtle sense of humor, was self-effacing and kind, very kind. He was patient and wise, a great role-model. Not just for public servants, but for everyone as we think about how we should live our lives. One story sums up Harris very well for me. On an evening before Harris was to return to D.C., I was asked to get some gas in his car that he kept on the Capitol campus. I went down the street, filled up the car, was at a stoplight on Pennsylvania Avenue when I got rear-ended in that car. I got out of the car and the bumper had been pushed in a little bit. Not a whole lot of damage, but I was mortified. I just wrecked a Member of Congress' car as a 23-year-old kid. I couldn't get any sleep that night. I went to the office the next morning early, knowing that Harris would be there. He called me into his office, and I thought, here we go, I'm getting fired. I explained the situation to the Congressman. Harris just looked at me with those kind eyes, had a little smile on his face and said, 'Tim, you don't have to worry about that at all. That damage was already there on the bumper.' That's the kind of guy Harris Fawell was. To his wife, Ruth, the love of his life, to his children, Richard, Jane, and John, to his entire family, and to all those lives who were touched by this truly kind man, our sympathies and prayers are with you. And thank you for sharing with... him with me and so many others that were impacted by Harris Fawell's life. He was a great man. Thank you, Madam Speaker, for the time. I would ask that all Members be added as cosponsors to the Resolution. And I'm not sure if any other Members want to speak, but if they do, could we have a moment of silence when they're done? Thank you."

Speaker Manley: "Both of those will be granted. The Chair recognizes Rep Yang Rohr."

Yang Rohr: "Harris Fawell, he was also a son of Naperville, and he loved Naperville. He and his wife, Ruth, they raised their three children in Naperville. And many of them still reside here to this day. The Congressman was so proud of our Naperville schools and he served on the House Education and Labor Committee. His wife, Ruth, was a teacher in Naperville 203. And Harris was a strong supporter of public education, championing the importance of federal funding for the Individuals with Disabilities Act. The Congressman cared deeply about health care issues, sponsoring legislation to make health care more affordable for small businesses. The Congressman was known as a policymaker, not a politician. And he studied every aspect of legislation. He was a principle legislator, and he was knowledgeable about the finest legislative details. He was a Republican moderate, strongly supporting the environment, women's rights, and other bipartisan issues. He, as you can see, was loved and respected by his congressional staff, teaching by example the importance of deep understanding and love of policy."

Speaker Manley: "All Members will be added to the Resolution. And now, a moment of silence. Thank you, Members. Leader Butler moves for the adoption of House Resolution 647. All those in favor say 'aye'; opposed say 'nay'. In the opinion of the Chair, the 'ayes' have it. And the Resolution is adopted. Representative Nichols is recognized for a point of personal privilege."

Tuskegee Airmen were the first black military aviators in the United States Army Air Corps, as pursuant to the U.S. Air Force. During the 1920s, just two of the three generations ago, America had the racist belief that black people did not have the cognitive or physical intelligence to learn to fly or operate aircraft. This is on top of the legalized and forced segregation across the country, including in our armed forces. The military brass believed black soldiers were inferior to white soldiers. But thanks to the civil rights era and the black newspapers like the Chicago Defender, public pressure built up to allow black people to serve and defend their country too. As we always had, since fighting so the Union could prevail. On March 22, 1941, the 99th Pursuit Squadron was created as the first Tuskegee Airmen Unit. They were the first black military flight unit in American history. The inaugural members began their training at Chanute Field, right here in Central Illinois, about 16 miles north of Champaign, Illinois. Go Illini. By the end of the year, the 99th had relocated to Tuskegee, Alabama. The Tuskegee Army airfield there under construction, home to the prestigious Tuskegee Institute, founded by Booker T. Washington. It was located in the heart of the Jim Crow south. As the U.S. Army forces began to integrate and mandate equal opportunity, a number of the original Tuskegee Airmen would go on to longer careers in the military. This includes Benjamin Davis, Jr., who would become the first black general in the United States Air Force. George 'Spanky' Roberts, who became the first black commander of the racially integrated Air Force Unit, before retiring as Colonel. And Daniel 'Chappie' James, Jr., who would become the nation's first black four-star general in 1975. More than 300 of the original Tuskegee Airmen..."

Speaker Manley: "Representative, excuse me. Could you pull your mask up, please? Thank you."

Nichols: "Oh, I thought we could read with it down. I apologize. More than 300 of the original Tuskegee Airmen were on hand to receive the Congressional Gold Medal from President George W. Bush in 2007. Two years later, the surviving Tuskegee trained pilots and support crew were invited to attend the inauguration of the nation's first black President, Barack Obama, also a product of Illinois. Colleagues on both sides of the aisle, this is a bit of U.S. black history in February, Black History Month, the shortest month of the year. Mostly the coldest month of the year. But again, we will be reading these black history facts. And as an African American, I'm black 365 days a year. So, I got history that's just spewing to be read in this chamber. Thank you very much for the opportunity. Thank you."

Speaker Manley: "Thank you, Representative. Members, I feel compelled to just remind you about House Rule 51.5. Please remember to wear a face coverings that cover both the nose and mouth. Face coverings should remain on while speaking on the microphone at your desks. 51.5. Thank you. Chair recognizes Representative Davidsmeyer."

Davidsmeyer: "Thank you, Madam Speaker. This is not something that I wanted to talk about on the House Floor today, but I think it's important to talk about masks and how the science of masks has changed based on the need of the House Floor. The last two days of Session, the end of last Session, we changed the rules to allow people to speak on the microphone without a mask because it was so hard to hear people on the House Floor. And now, because we're at the beginning of a Legislative Session, the science now all of the sudden tells us that we have to wear it. I... are we following the science, or are we not following the science? I don't know if you have to ask the Clerk or who you have to ask."

Speaker Manley: "I'm following the rule."

Davidsmeyer: "Okay. And let me just say..."

Speaker Manley: "We're following the rule, Representative."

Davidsmeyer: "Okay. And many of my friends on the other side of the aisle, and I'm not going to call out names, recently had a big fundraiser for a big supporter of your side of the aisle, spent a nice evening walking around, taking pictures with masks off. So, I think that it's a little disingenuous to say that we have to do it while we're here on the House Floor, but you don't have to do it when you're in a big group, many of you all together at the same time. So, let's actually get back to real science. Thank you."

Speaker Manley: "Chair recognizes Representative Collins. For what reason do you seek recognition?"

Collins: "Thank you, Chairwoman. I will say this. I have a eight-year-old son at home who has asthma, and I listened to the science. And I make sure that I take every necessary precaution to protect my son. In the black community, there are people still dying, still in the hospitals, which our hospital workers are overwhelmed because folks refuse to, what you all are saying on the other side of the aisle, is follow the science. Right now, we have a rule in the chamber, and we see that there are Members on the other side of the aisle who are not following those rules. So, what do we do about those Members who refuse to follow these rules? Because it is putting people like me, who look like me in danger. And I don't want to go back home and give something to my son. So, I get what they're trying to say, which is to me, is a political circus. But I want to be clear. I do have someone at home that I want to protect. And whether you care about my child or not, I ask that you put on your mask while we're in this close space. If not, do exactly what we need to do to remove these people from the chamber. Thank you."

Speaker Manley: "Thank you, Representative. Leader Welter for an announcement."
