Speaker McPike: "The House will...The House will come to order.

The Chaplain for today is Reverend Richard Egts pastor of Abundant Life Church in Auburn. Reverend Egts is the guests of Representative Curran. The guest in the balcony may wish to rise and join us for the invocation."

Reverend Egts.: "Let us bow our heads in prayer. Our heavenly Father, in Jesus' name, we give You thanks for the United States of America and for the great State of Illinois and its government, and we hold up before You right now, the men and women, who are in this chamber, the workers who are in a position of authority, ask for your divine wisdom, Godly wisdom and skills to be a part in their hearts as they are discreet over the affairs of this State. We thank You for the opportunity of being able to represent the people of this great State. We thank You that You've placed in our hands the responsibility for good government. We thank You that You've called us forth, recognizing and accepting in us that we are people of integrity and...obedience, that we may have good government and lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty. We thank You for this opportunity to be a part of the work in this land, to bring peace and harmony, prosperity and abundance. And we thank You, Father, in Jesus' name, for giving us an opportunity by being part of all of these things. We receive and recognize You are our refuge and You are our stronghold in times of trouble, and we declare what you say for safety in this land. We thank You for blessing each leader, for this great land and we give You the praise for it and thanks for it in the name of Jesus Christ. Amen."
