Thank you, again, Mr. President. I know of no opposition on this bill. This actually repeals portions of a bill that was enacted and signed into law last year regarding trusts and what requirements were to occur once a -- a -- real estate was deeded into a trust. So it repeals portions, but it maintains or keeps into effect that once you transfer real estate into a trust, a written instrument of conveyance must evidence the transfer of legal title to the trustee. It's what happens in practice if you do it by way of deed. So I know of no opposition. I ask for your favorable vote.

And, Senator Morrison, I, quite honestly, do not recall one word of the debate or conversation we had last year about this, so talk to me and the Body a little bit about why you think this is a good step or, I'm assuming, a necessary step.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LINK)

Senator Morrison.

SENATOR MORRISON:

Senator Righter, we're talking about a product called Tannerite. This is a product that's exclusive use is for making an -- it's -- it's for an explosion. So, most commonly, people who want to take target practice purchase this and they set it up on a fence, they set it up on a field, and they have target practice. A high velocity bullet will explode the -- the compound. Otherwise, it's not dangerous and it's not an explosive. This is something that you could go or I could go into a store and purchase six hundred pounds of - without a question, without identification, without any concern. People who normally... Are you able to hear, Senator? The only people who purchase this are firearm owners, people who want to take target practice. Because it is an explosive, it does set -- it could potentially be used in a very destructive, almost a terrorist kind of way. I have heard of no opposition from either firearm owners or -- even the Retail Merchants I do not believe are opposed to this.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LINK)

Senator Righter.

SENATOR RIGHTER:

Do we -- do we know or have any record, Senator Morrison, of an instance where someone purchased this who did not have a FOID card, who then used it for illicit purposes? Because, I mean, that -- that's where you're going. You're -- you're saying that if you got a FOID card, it's okay for you to buy it, but if you don't have a FOID card, it's not okay for you to buy it. So what's the connection? Do you have one between someone who doesn't have a -- didn't have a FOID card and their improper use of this substance?

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LINK)

Senator Morrison.

SENATOR MORRISON:

I do not -- I do not have a specific example of that having happened already. We're getting in front of a problem before it occurs, Senator.

SENATOR MULROE:

Thank you, Mr. President, Members of the Senate. Senate Bill 2580 provides that the Probation and Probation Officers Act governs the appointment of officers to probation or -- court services departments of the Pretrial Services Act. It's currently covered in the Pretrial Services Act, but not in the Probation Officers Act. So we're just trying to -- so, more of a cleanup measure. I'd ask for your Yes votes.
