Please make your announcement.

SENATOR BRADY:

Thank you, Mr. President. Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate, I have a special guest, a Page for the Day, who's joining me. He's from Bloomington, Illinois. He's a sixth grader at Corpus Christi. He's is a friend of mine. He's a swimmer. His name is Eli Trauner and he's joined here by his friend Marlene Woodruff, Terry Reid, and Bill Simms in the gallery. Most importantly, Eli is a very, very proud Cubs fan. So I'd ask the Ladies and Gentlemen of the Chamber to join me in welcoming him.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR KOEHLER)

Welcome to the Illinois Senate. Senator Rezin, for what purpose do you seek recognition?

SENATOR REZIN:

Thank you, Mr. President. I, too, have a -- an introduction.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR KOEHLER)

Please make your introduction.

SENATOR REZIN:

Thank you, Mr. President. I am pleased to have two visitors here today, Kate and Anna Hoffman. Kate is completing the eighth grade and will be attending St. -- St. Francis (Borgia Regional) High School next fall in Washington, Missouri. She can get lost for hours reading a good book and enjoys baking. In addition to swimming competitively for five years where she was named Rookie of the Year, she is active in the Mariners, where she's an officer and has volunteered on food drives, and in her church, which she also has served as a junior youth counselor. Anna is completing the eighth grade as well and will be attending St. Francis High School next year in Washington as well. She enjoys doing art of all kind, especially drawing, playing piano, and being -- and being two minutes older than her twin sister, Kate, here. In addition to swimming competitively for five years, she's active in the Mariners, where she has volunteered on food drives, and in her church, and she also serves as a junior youth counselor. Kate and Anna have four siblings younger than them, so they are the oldest in their family. So, again, I'd like a warm Springfield welcome.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR KOEHLER)

Welcome to the Illinois Senate. Senator Harmon, for what purpose do you seek recognition?

SENATOR HARMON:

Thank you, Mr. President. I rise for purposes of an introduction.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR KOEHLER)

Please make your introduction.

SENATOR HARMON:

Thank you, Mr. President. Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate, I have a special guest with me here on the Floor. Ella Murray is here. She's eleven years old and in the fifth grade at Lincoln Elementary School in Oak Park. Since I've been in the Chair, I haven't had as much time to visit with her as I would have liked, but I'm delighted to learn that she likes dance and choir and softball and acting and is in the Girl Scouts. And she and her parents, who are in the gallery, Sean and Teresa, are strong supporters of Unity Temple in Oak Park. And I'm glad to welcome all of them here with me today, but especially to have Ella on the Floor is a treat. Thank you, Mr. President.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR KOEHLER)

Welcome to the Illinois Senate. Senator Weaver, for what purpose do you seek recognition?

SENATOR WEAVER:

Purpose of an introduction, Mr. President.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR KOEHLER)

Please make your introduction.

SENATOR WEAVER:

Yeah, I'm honored to have with me today Brandon Collins from Lacon, Illinois, who's my Page for the Day. He's sixteen years old, sophomore at Midland High School. He plays golf and basketball. He's on the Scholastic Bowl team and he is on -- on the Bass Fishing team, active in FFA. Favorite subject - History. He has written down here two things as a - mechanical engineer or entrepreneur - as a career, but he has been following me to some different events, not to become an elected official, just because he's passionate about our State and learning about it. So please welcome him to Springfield, Illinois. Brandon Collins.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR KOEHLER)

Welcome to the Illinois Senate. Senator Morrison, for what purpose do you seek recognition?

SENATOR MORRISON:

For the purpose of an introduction.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR KOEHLER)

Please make your introduction.

SENATOR MORRISON:

Today, we welcome the Illinois Youth in Care and Alumni Legislative Shadow Day participants. This is the fourth Annual Shadow Day in conjunction with DCFS, Foster Care Alum of America-Illinois Chapter, and the Illinois Statewide Youth Advisory Board. We have forty-eight Shadows sitting in the President's Gallery

SENATOR FINE:

Thank you. The American College of Surgeons is a scientific and educational organization of surgeons that was founded in 1913 to raise the standards of surgical practice and improve the quality of care for surgical patients. The College is dedicated to the ethical and competent practice of surgery. Its achievements have significantly influenced the course of scientific surgery in America and have established it as an important advocate for all surgical patients. Headquartered in downtown Chicago, the College has more than eighty-two thousand members and is the largest organization of surgeons in the world. I'd like the Body to help me welcome members of the American College of Surgeons to Springfield. They are up there in the gallery behind the Republican side. And I hope you had time to stop by their table today in the rotunda to learn more about the "Stop the Bleed" program. So thank you and welcome to Springfield.

the son of Mike and Maria Klitzing and the grandson of a friend of mine, George Mette. Logan's a sophomore at Quincy University, in Senator Tracy's district. At -- at Quincy University, he's involved in the Marching Band, World War II reenactments, and Quincy University Students for Life. Logan is a major in Computer Science and a minor in Philosophy. When he graduates, he wants to pursue a career in either computer programming or, perhaps, the seminary. Logan is very interested in politics and -- and the State of Illinois, so I was pleased to have him here today and like everybody to please welcome Logan Klitzing to the Illinois State Senate. Thank you.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR KOEHLER)

Welcome to the Illinois Senate. Senator Cunningham, for what purpose do you seek recognition?

SENATOR CUNNINGHAM:

I -- I, too, have an introduction to make, Mr. President.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR KOEHLER)

Please make your introduction.

SENATOR CUNNINGHAM:

I'm joined by Sean Sutton. Sean's a student at a school in my district, Morgan Park Academy, where he is classmates with Senator Sims' daughter. I met Sean a couple weeks ago. We were conducting a mock legislature at Morgan Park Academy with students from all over my district. Sean did such a nice job at it, I invited him to come down and shadow me today to watch a legislature in action. Sean's in eighth grade at Morgan Park Academy. He is interested in, perhaps, studying medicine, but he's also interested in politics. I've advised him to combine the two and go to med school and then run for the General Assembly. And

Mr. President, I have been joined today by a wonderful young lady, Alexis Campbell. She was introduced recently on -- by Senator -- by Senators Morrison and Weaver. She's twenty years old. She goes to the University of Illinois Springfield, a Legal Studies major, with a minor in Political Science. She aspires to one day become a State's Attorney. She's, again, a wonderful young lady I had the opportunity to speak with today and sit in meetings with, just one -- one of our upcoming stars. I wanted to introduce her and ask the Senate to give her a warm welcome.

SENATOR SYVERSON:

Point of personal privilege, Mr. President.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR HARMON)

Please state your point.

SENATOR SYVERSON:

I'd like to introduce my Page for the Day, Rick Nielsen. And if I can have your attention, we're -- Rick Nielsen, as many of you know, has been here a number of times. Actually, in 2007, some of you who were here, we passed legislation creating Cheap Trick Day in Illinois, which happens to be on July 1st -- I mean April 1st every year. And that was -- that was passed in 2007. But a little bit of background for you younger Members with Rick and his background with Cheap Trick: Over five thousand plus concerts. He's currently touring around the world. In fact, leaving from here to go to Dallas and then over -- back over -- overseas, so they're keeping busy. Recently, was -- received his award of being voted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame. Absolutely. And you know some of his -- some of his big hits: I Want You to Want Me, Surrender, Dream Police - some of the big hits over the years. And if you don't remember those, you'll probably remember some of the theme songs to That '70s Show or Simpsons or Colbert, or soundtracks in Top Gun, Guardians of the Galaxy, Scrubs, Transformers, just to name a few. And the nice thing about Rick is, he's had a choice to live anywhere in the country and he's chosen to keep Illinois his home and to keep Rockford his home. And probably the smartest thing he's done is go into business with a great young Senator from Rockford - not Stadelman, but me. But we're honored to have him down here and - and he's here with some others supporting Rockford today and some of the key issues that we're working on on behalf of Rockford. So, would you -- I would like to have you join us and -- join Steve and I in welcoming Rick Nielsen back to the Senate.

Senator Villivalam, on your resolution.

SENATOR VILLIVALAM:

Thank you, Mr. President. I -- I rise to recognize the month of May as Asian (and Pacific Islander) American Heritage Month. The Asian American and Pacific Islander community is an extremely diverse community, as it's comprised of over twenty-five -- sorry, forty-five distinct ethnicities and more than a hundred different languages. The Asian American population grew faster than any other racial or ethnic group over the last decade, surging more than seventy percent between the year 2000 and 2015, according to the Bureau of the Census. While Asian American and Pacific Islander Americans have made countless contributions to the history of Illinois and the U. S., they have made their mark in the face of brutal discrimination, working conditions, and inherent prejudice. The community has persevered to prosper by taking a leadership role in the fields of education, business, art, science, law, medicine, and IT. It's for this reason and -- among many, that we in the Illinois Senate should recognize the month of May as Asian (and Pacific Islander) American Heritage Month. Lastly, I will add that today was Asian American Advocacy Day and I thank my colleagues for welcoming folks from the Asian American community here today, like you have me in the Senate. Thank you.
