SENATOR MARTWICK:

Thank you. Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate, if I could have your attention for just a brief moment, I'd like to ask you to join me in welcoming a couple of guests to the Chamber. With me, I have Kamil Mozwecz, Arthur Zadrozny, and Daniel Pogorzelski. And if you're wondering where all of those letters in the alphabet came from, they're here for a very special day. Today - and if you'll notice, there was a letter left on your desk from me - today is Fat Tuesday, and in celebration of Fat Tuesday, these three fine gentlemen drove down from Chicago with paczki. Now, you may be wondering what paczki is. This is a famous -- or a traditional Polish delicacy that's shared on the day before Ash Wednesday. They are located in the conference room behind the Chamber and I ask you all to join me in -- in -- in indulging in a little bit of sweet deliciousness before Ash Wednesday tomorrow. But, more importantly, these are brought as part of a fundraiser for a social service agency that has been in operation since 1922 on the northwest side of the City of Chicago, the Polish American Association. So please join me. Have a delicious treat. Know that you're doing good work today. And please join these -- welcome these three gentlemen and thank 'em for their long drive down, bringing the treats.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR HOLMES)

Thank you so much and welcome to Springfield. Senator Koehler, for what do you seek recognition?

SENATOR KOEHLER:

At IMSA, she is involved in the student body across multiple leadership boards and positions. She is currently pursuing a mechanical engineering degree in her future. And she hopes to take this education that she has right now and go to the Air Force Academy in Colorado. So if everybody in the Senate would please give a big welcome to Mirella.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR HOLMES)

Thank you so much. And welcome to Springfield. IMSA is in my district. Very happy to have you here in the Chamber. Senator DeWitte, for -- for what purpose do you seek recognition?

would like to introduce Archan Das. He is a junior at IMSA, grew up in my district. The reason why he went to IMSA was because he wanted to study their advanced math courses -- math courses because he knew that they would challenge him as a student. He wants to go on to study computer science, specifically artificial intelligence, and is already in the process of examining schools, including our own University of Illinois. He's on the IMSA Quiz Bowl team and Robotics team, and teaches data and leadership in the IMSA Leadership program. I would ask the Body for a warm welcome.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR HOLMES)

SENATOR BARICKMAN:

Thank you again, Madam President. My guest, for the Members of the Senate here, is Saisu Talasu. Saisu is a senior at IMSA. And I want to introduce her, but I also want to take a moment to introduce some of the guests that we also have in the gallery from IMSA. I'd like those students who are here; the IMSA President, Dr. Torres; and the Executive Director, Tami Armstrong, to all stand. They're in the gallery here. And I'd just ask the -- my colleagues here that we would recognize all the members of IMSA, including my guest, Saisu. Thank you.

Thank you, Madam President. I am honored -- let me join the chorus of individuals who are welcoming and recognizing guests with us today. I've got with us Ivie Orobor. She's a senior from IMSA, who's from Crete, Illinois, in my district. She is an avid flute player and a -- she's an avid runner as well. She hopes to attend Loyola University Chicago, so you know she's a smart student. But what I found most interesting was that she is interested and intrigued by organic chemistry. So, you know, that just raised the -- the IQ and the level of the intelligence in the Senate by leaps and bounds. So I hope the Senate will join me in welcoming Ivie to Springfield.

Well, I am here today to introduce Tyler Ptak from Elmhurst, my district. He is a senior at the Illinois Math and Science Academy. And he has been accepted into the Aerospace Engineering program - another engineer, yeah - at University of Illinois. So we are happy to have him here. He hopes one day to become an astronaut. So maybe we'll see him, you know, in a space -- a spacewalk. He's captain of the golf team and plays guitar. And I would really appreciate a warm Springfield welcome. Thank you.

SENATOR HARMON:

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR HOLMES)

Please state your introduction.

SENATOR HARMON:

Thank you, Madam President. I, too, have a special guest from IMSA. Amber Bautista, from my district in Franklin Park, is a junior. She's considering aerospace engineering, which is very intimidating to all of us who are not considering aerospace engineering. And I can tell already, she's going to be a tremendous success.
