SENATOR TRACY:

We have two very important groups visiting our galleries today. The first group I would point out is the Mason County Farm Bureau that are visiting here. And I might add that two of their group, not specifically mentioning which ones, have been farming for over fifty years and I think that's a great accomplishment and I appreciate all their service to agriculture. Likewise, we have many of our FF -- or our 4-H members here in the gallery, wearing the green shirts. If you want to stand up and say hello. One of them in particular is from Knox County, from my district. And, of course, their leader is Pam and she's from my district in Macomb. And so we appreciate all they do and we always welcome them to the Capitol. So if you'll join me in giving both groups a very warm welcome. Thank you.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LIGHTFORD)

Please rise and be welcomed to the Illinois General Assembly. Thank you. Senator Collins, for what purpose do you rise?

SENATOR COLLINS:

Thank you, Madam President. Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate, I also have visitors today. Today the Lieutenant Governor celebrated the Illinois Council of {sic} (on) Women and Girls and many of the phenomenal women are now sitting in the President's Gallery. And I would like to recognize them: Amina Jaffer, Wendy Pollack, Nikita Richards, Rhonda Thomas, Sylvia Perez Matos-Collins, and Kelly Fair. These women volunteer to work on issues that are important to women and we -- look forward to the recommendations coming from the Council to ensure that we are representative on all channels of government - executive, judicial, and legislative. Thank you so much. Please give them

SENATOR CROWE:

Point of personal privilege, Madam Chair.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LIGHTFORD)

Please state your point.

SENATOR CROWE:

Thank you. With me today is my Page, Mr. Noah Jones. Noah is from Alhambra and is a sophomore at my much-loved Maryville Christian School. Noah is a very talented soccer player for his school, as well for a local traveling team. He hopes to continue his education and athletic career in college while studying sports marketing and cinematography. Hopefully he'll choose one of our incredible State universities. In Noah's spare time, he enjoys helping out his family on their farm, hiking, fishing, and being outdoors. He one day hopes to visit all of our nation's beautiful national parks. Please join me in welcoming Noah to the Senate.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LIGHTFORD)

Welcome, Noah. Keep up the good work. Senator Fowler, for what purpose do you rise?

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LIGHTFORD)

Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate, can you please settle down? Lower your voices. Thank you so much. Senator Fowler.

SENATOR FOWLER:

Thank you, Madam President and Members of the Senate. I rise today in recognition of one of our country's true heroes, Corporal William Lee Brown. Corporal Brown, a Benton Illinois native, was killed in action on December the 2nd, 1950, during fierce fighting between the United Nation {sic} (Nations) coalition troops and Chinese forces in North Korea. Sadly, his remains could not be recovered. Following the battle, he was listed as missing in action for over seventy years. Following a summit between President Donald Trump and North Korean Leader Kim Jong-un in 2018, an agreement was reached to return Corporal Brown to his family. Dr. Clarice Burchell, William's sister, joins us today with her son, Mike, and daughter-in-law, Lori. Corporal Lee Brown made the ultimate sacrifice for his country. If I may, Madam President, I would like to request a moment in silence in honor of Corporal William Lee Brown's sacrifice to our country.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LIGHTFORD)

Ladies and Gentlemen, please rise for a moment of silence. (Moment of silence observed) Thank you. Senator Martwick, for what purpose do you rise?

SENATOR MARTWICK:

Thank you. Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate, if you would give me your attention for one second. As we all know, today is a day of great advocacy here in the Capitol, as people come to exercise their voices. Today, I'm joined on the Floor by a very special advocate, a -- a former staffer on the other side of the building, who is now the Alderman of the 42nd Ward in the City of Chicago. He is here to advocate for the Clean Energy Jobs Act. He's brought his voice down to Springfield. Please -- me in giving him a warm welcome. Alderman Brendan Reilly is here on the Floor with us.

Senator Koehler, what purpose do you rise?

SENATOR KOEHLER:

Thank you, Madam President. For an announcement.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR HUNTER)

Please state your announcement.

SENATOR KOEHLER:

Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate, it falls upon me now each year, since John Sullivan isn't in the Senate anymore, to announce the St. Patrick's Day Sullivan Caucus, which is Wednesday, March 18th, 2020. Now the reason - you might ask, why does somebody with a very German-sounding name announce the Irish celebration - I'm married to Nora Sullivan. So she's kind of a connection to the Sullivan Caucus. Again, it's Wednesday, March 18th, at the Gin Mill. It's from 5 to 9 p.m. and they would appreciate you all attending. Thank you.

SENATOR SCHIMPF:

Yes, Members of the Senate, I'd like to take a few moments to introduce you to a couple of my emerging youth leaders in my district. I have with me today, I have -- to my left, I have Veronica Crowell, and to my right, I have Olivia Bowring. Both Olivia and Veronica are seniors at Murphysboro High School. They were able to win my Emerging Young Leaders Award by writing essays. Veronica wrote an essay that was very good about the need for more civility in our political discourse. And Olivia wrote her essay on the need for more health care for -- mental health care for children. So these are both two tremendous young leaders that I'm honored to have with me today. And I would just ask if we could give them a warm Springfield welcome.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LIGHTFORD)

Please state your privilege, Senator.

SENATOR HUNTER:

Thank you very much, Madam President. I have some special guests in the Chamber that I'd like to introduce you all to, but before I do that, I'd like to read a Proclamation. And our guests hail from Dunbar Vocational High School in Chicago. Dunbar Vocational High School has -- they operate the only CPS aviation program in the entire City. Recently, this program was recognized by the Public Broadcasting System {sic} (Service), in which they actually came out to the school and they videotaped the aviation program, the student and the teacher, as a segment for Chicago Tonight, and it is the only FAA-approved mechanics program in the City of Chicago as well. But everything got started in 1931 at Dunbar High School actually with a gentleman by the name of Cornelius Coffey, who -- who was the first African American to hold a pilot's and mechanic's license. And Mr. Coffey, after World War II, established and ran an aircraft mechanics track at Dunbar Vocational High School from the 1950s until the 1990s, during which he trained some of the first black mechanics to be hired by commercial airlines. In honor of Coffey -- Cornelius Coffey's legacy, Dunbar Vocational High School has elected to reinstate its aviation mechanics track, under the instruction -- under the instruction of Mr. Umberto Rico, who is a licensed aircraft mechanic and he's also a commercial pilot. And also we have -- also we would like to remember Mr. Coffey as an icon of both the aviation and black history that graduated from Dunbar Vocational High School on reopening its aviation training program. Now the student that I spoke of, his name is Zaire Horton. This young man is only fourteen years old..

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LIGHTFORD)

Shh! Please, Ladies and Gentlemen.

SENATOR HUNTER:

He's a freshman. And when I went out to visit the -- the -- the school and the program, Zaire -- his name is Zaire Horton. He had an opportunity to join the basketball team because he loved to play basketball, but once he found out that Mr. Umberto was teaching airline pilot, he said, "I want to be a pilot." So he has learned how to. So Mr. -- Mr. Umberto actually took his own money and he bought a simulator, and Zaire now knows how to take off, land, and restore planes. Okay? And Zaire's mother is -- has joined us. Her name is Yolanda Horton. And this program is so heavily supported by the local school council at Dunbar High School that some of the officers of the local school council drove down to Springfield to support this young man. So we have the president of the local school council, Gregory Alston - would you please stand? - his wife, who's an officer, Reverend Krista Alston; Rikki Jones; as well as Shari Nichols Sweat. So let's welcome them all here to Springfield.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR LIGHTFORD)

Welcome to the Illinois General Assembly. Senator Rose, for what purpose do you rise?

SENATOR McCONCHIE:

Thank you, Madam President. This bill is a result of some of the work we did in Higher Education Working Group, in which we found out that there are some guidance counselors in high schools around the State who were taking gifts from out-of-state schools in order to try to drive some of our Illinois students to other states. So this would essentially say -- copy our gift ban over and apply it to guidance counselors so they cannot accept any gifts from a prohibited source above a hundred dollars per year. I know of no opposition. Would ask for an Aye vote.

SENATOR McCLURE:

Thank you, Madam President. This bill allows for the purchase of up to two years of parochial school service credit by TRS active participants that will start from when this bill becomes law until June 30th, 2021. The participant has to have been a teacher in a private school recognized by ISBE, has to be a certified teacher when that service was rendered, and has to complete at least ten years of TRS contributing service. It's also important to note that the teacher would have to pick up both the employer and the employee contributions for that service. So I think it's a good bill. It's a bipartisan bill. I know of no opponents and I urge Senate Resolution 974, offered by Senator Lightford.

PRESIDING OFFICER: (SENATOR MARTINEZ)

Leader Lightford.

SENATOR LIGHTFORD:

Thank you, Madam President. Ladies and Gentlemen of the Senate, Senate Resolution 974 calls for the United States Congress to reauthorize the Older Americans Act and to fund it at the federal Fiscal Year 2010 level. The Older American {sic} Act provides essential programs that help older adults live independently, such as home-delivered meals, in-home services, protection from abuse, and support for family caregivers. The Older Americans Act funds flow to the states through the Area Agencies on Aging. In Illinois, we have thirteen of these agencies throughout the State. State programs that are administered under the Older Americans Act through the Area Agencies on Aging must target services to older adults with the greatest social and economic need. The Older Americans Act was first enacted in 1965 and it has been reauthorized in a bipartisan fashion since then. The most recent authorization expired on September 30th of 2019. And in Fiscal Year 2010, federal funding nationwide was at 2.33 billion; however, the growth of the older population has increased nearly twenty-five percent from 2010 to 2017. The Government Accountability Office reported in 2015 that twenty-four percent of older low-income adults were food insecure and that two out of three older adults who have difficulty completing daily activities have little or no access to home-based care. Nutrition programs, such as Meals on Wheels, and in-home care can both be provided through the Older Americans Act. In federal Fiscal Year 2010, nationwide funding of the Older Americans Act was at 2.33 billion, and by 2019, it had been reduced to 2.03 billion. Senate Resolution 974 urges the United States Congress and the President to reauthorize the Older Americans Act at federal Fiscal Year of 2010 to meet this serious need in every community throughout the State of Illinois. I ask for your support.
